

Panel discussion of the practical and political challenges in supporting fuel economy policies

Chaired by: Ruslan Zhechov, REC

Panelists:

- Sylvia Aguilar, CEGESTI
- Hossam Allam, CEDARE
- Gianni Lopez, Centro Mario Molina
- Alvin Mejia, Clean Air Asia
- Ruth Potopsingh, Utech Jamaica

Panel discussion of the practical and political challenges in supporting fuel economy policies

- Describe your organizations, what you do, and how you support the promotion of fuel economy in your regions /country
- What are existing regional processes and forums that are supporting or can support the development of a harmonized fuel economy approach in the region, and how are these able to support your work? For example, there is an Asia-Pacific Economic Conference initiative on fuel economy labeling -- how do you tap on these initiatives to support your work?
- What do you think should be the role of the GFEI in supporting the development and adaptation of regional approaches to fuel economy - for example the EU Directive?
- How about the role of other stakeholders, e.g. government, non-government, and the private sector? How do they impact your work?

